JULY 2017

The Writers

The annual reading of work from "Telling Your Story," a senior seminar in autobiographical writing, was held on Wednesday, May 23. "Telling Your Story," sponsored by Brookline Adult and Community Education, is now in its 22nd year, and the writings from its members continue to be fresh and funny, touching and wise.

Our own Ellie Kaplan has been a member for 22 years, and Fuzzy Downs, a member for 20 years. Congratulations to "The Writers" for another successful year.

The Longest Day

The Longest Day is all about love. Love for all those affected by Alzheimer's disease. Since it was the summer solstice, Springhouse Senior Living celebrated with all our residents by having Ice Cream Sodas on the patio. We had purple cups, napkins, sprinkles and straws. As always we are trying to raise awareness of Alzheimer's Disease. #endalz

ESL Program

Springhouse Senior Living is very excited to announce our new English as a Second Language (ESL) program being offered every Saturday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. in our 3rd floor conference room. This program has been designed to assist several of our staff members and those of our vendors who work closely with us to perfect their English language skills. Our Independent Residents have volunteered their expertise to provide this wonderful enriching program to our staff members free of charge. We are very grateful to them for their donation of their time and talents. If you know anyone interested in learning more about participating in this ESL program, please contact Kathy Foley at 617-522-0043 ext. 2101.

Jack Craig Concert: Sunday, July 16

Jack Craig will present The Songs of Jule Styne, on Sunday, July 16 at 1:30pm.

Jule Styne whose musical career is quite amazing in scope and includes the following pieces: classical piano, swing band work, vocal coaching for stars like Alice Faye and Shirley Temple, songs for Frank Sinatra, work for Broadway with Comden and Green, and Academy Award song writing. His song list reads like the history of American popular music.

'People' who come 'Just in Time' for this program will think 'I've Heard That Song Before' even though 'It's Been a Long, Long, Time' 'Let Jule Styne Entertain You'! Please join us for this entertaining concert.

Chinese Brush Painting Gallery Exhibit

Springhouse Gallery welcomes Tsun Ming Chmielinski and her Chinese Brush Paintings.

Born in China and raised in Hong Kong, Tsun Ming Chmielinski began her Chinese Brush painting (otherwise known as Sumi-e) at the age of fourteen. Tsun Ming was a private student of the late Zen Master, Shaw Lup Sing, a distinguished art professor at Hong Kong Chinese University.

Tsun Ming immigrated to the United States in 1976 to pursue a higher education in accounting and finance. She worked in this field until the early 90's, though while working as an accountant she never stopped her Sumi-e painting.

After this Tsun Ming began to expand her artistic media by studying pastels, botanical watercolors and oil painting at the School of the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston, Wellesley College, and through private lessons. She continues to take workshops in a variety of different media and makes a point of traveling extensively for inspiration.

The exhibit of her work at Springhouse Senior Living opened on June 30th and will be on display through the month of July. Stop by our first floor front lobby and enjoy!
